The focus on research and the quest for knowledge dissemination continues to be the cornerstone of the legacy of SLS Pune and have earned several laurels.

Every Institution is nurtured by the hard work of the Director, Faculty and staff but the reputation for excellence is consolidated when the alumni win accolades for themselves and their alma mater.

PRINCIPAL DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Symbiosis Law School, Pune, has consistently maintained close association with its students after they graduate and become privileged members of the alumni community. Now, with the campus moving to the new Viman Nagar location, we hope to not only continue but also enhance our linkages with the alumni network. The new campus offers leading-edge infrastructural amenities and services—all the way from classrooms and library to extra-curricular and recreational facilities.

It is very important to us that the ties between the alumni community and us continue to flourish. For this to happen, members of the alumni community must be offered opportunities to stay abreast with all that is "new and happening" on the campus. In offering the Newsletter to you, it is our hope that you will become more aware of the ways in which your alma mater is growing and proud of your ties with it. I congratulate Dr. Gurpur and her team for taking on the excellent initiative of putting out the Alumni Newsletter. I have no doubt that as you cherish your memories of the S. B. Road campus, you will also become delighted with the many ways in which the new Viman Nagar campus adds to the prestige of the Institute. I hope that as more members join the alumni network, the memories will only grow in fondness.

Dr. Vidya Yeravdekar
Principal Director, Symbiosis Society

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Dear Alumnus,

We have arrived at a very important turning point since 1977. At last, our dream has turned into a reality. A dream that every good law school would not wait to realize; to expand and to create a pedestal for best practices and a bigger canvass for aspirations. The magnificent new building in the new campus with easy accessibility and visibility, epitomizes all of these ideas and houses the indicators of a world class law school. The wonder we recall is our Founder's wisdom and joy at the new campus during his first visit.

His contentment knew no boundaries, as we looked on, while viewing the moot court hall. Also, our mentor, Guide and Professor Emeritus Advocate Ram Jethmalani compared the new campus to some of the ivy league law schools that he had visited and lectured at.

I am sure, you must recall your decades old memories, if not in the walls and premises of this building, in the very ideas and soul of this institute; the soul that was confined to the old barrack, then in blue building, through long corridors, resonating the shared noises and friendships melting into time like white clouds cluttering the skies of S.B. Road. Yet, this soul beams a heritage of many decades, capturing important treasures of independent India's history of legal education!

Every year, we facilitate this networking and learning event where you re-live those moments. You share the nostalgia and your hopes. Here, we express our gratitude to the ways in which you have enriched our quality legal education mission with the spirit of oneness of humankind. Some of the alumni have infused life into this mission with their dedication as teachers. Those of you who are far away, often connect virtually and share your laurels to our heart's delight.

I welcome all of you, those here and those far away, to come and partner with us in furthering the growth of SLS, Pune from glory to glory, strength to strength.

Peace, Joy, Solidarity.

Dr. Shahsika Gurpur, Fulbright Scholar
Director, Symbiosis Law School, Pune
Dean, Faculty of Law, Symbiosis International University

INTERVIEW WITH HON'BLE JUSTICE MRS. REVATI MOHITE DERE

Hon'ble Justice Mrs. Revati Mohite Dere, Judge, High Court of Judicature at Bombay

What motivated you to enter the legal profession?

I belong to a family of lawyers. My father was a well-known criminal lawyer. He inspired me and my sisters to study law. My father motivated my mother too to pursue law, after 15 years of marriage, following which, she taught at Symbiosis Law School and ILS, Pune. He was our inspiration. As a student, I witnessed criminal trials. I witnessed General Vaidya's case and the Joshi-Abhyankar serial murder case of the 70s. It was very dramatic at that point of time to witness such criminal cases. All of this inspired me to pursue law.

Would you share your experience at Symbiosis Law School, Pune?

Symbiosis was the first college to start the 5 year law course in Maharashtra. Many colleges were not willing to take this risk at that point of time but Dr. Mujumdar, with his dynamic leadership, ensured Symbiosis was a pioneer in this as well. Everything was new in the syllabus and there was nothing to fall back on. I remember representing Symbiosis at the All India Moot Court Competition organized by the Bar Council of India, in its 25th year. I was at that point of time, pursuing my 4th year. There were only 2 colleges, with the 5 year law course students, participating in the competition; one from Coimbatore and the other team was Symbiosis, whom I and my colleague represented. This Moot Court Competition saw Symbiosis in the finals and I won an individual prize. Symbiosis always encourages students to participate in the Moot Court Competitions, Mock United Nations debates and all such events. This encouragement continues even today. Now when I see the new campus, one is tempted to re-join Symbiosis as a student. Although in my time, the campus was smaller, we never missed anything, as the faculty was excellent and encouragement galore. My student days at Symbiosis have been a fantastic experience.

What are the changes you would like to see in the Indian Legal System?

Pendency is tremendous. It has to be brought down and that can happen only with an increase in the appointment of Judges. The number of Judges to the number of cases that are filed, is disproportionate. We need to encourage alternate dispute resolution methods in our Country, to reduce pendency of cases. At this moment, we are tremendously over-worked. We work 24/7 and we are always carrying work back home. There are about 60-70 matters which have to be read a day, identify the questions and so on. Lawyers also play an important role in reducing the backlog of cases, by being well prepared, brief and to the point.

What message would you give to the current students of our college?

There is no substitute for hard work, sincerity and integrity. Be passionate about what you do and you will succeed. I would like to see students entering not only the Corporate field, but also Judiciary and take up litigation. My father always believed that money is not everything and one must also give free legal services in genuine cases, where parties cannot afford to pay for litigation, and where there is injustice done to them. Infact, in such cases, I would spend from my own pocket, do everything from drafting to fighting the case on their behalf, and at the end, when you get justice for them, the satisfaction you get is incomparable. Today, as a Judge, the satisfaction of work is different and immense. Remember, sometimes in litigation, you may take time to establish yourself, but if you have the passion, the drive and commitment to work, nothing is impossible. Humility is a virtue, to be remembered in your ladder to success.

In that respect, what message would you give to your fellow alumni?

Today, I am here because of my hard work, sincerity ty and integrity. I have always wanted to do it that way. I was always very passionate about my work, so work never seemed like 'work'. I have worked as a defence Counsel, then as an Assistant Government Pleader, then I was the Government Pleader and Public Prosecutor for the State of Maharashtra and also a Prosecutor for the CBI. I have had the best of both, as a defence Counsel and as a Public Prosecutor. I believe, that wherever I am today is because of my hard work, integrity and sincerity and I believe there is no other way. I must certainly add, that my parents have played an immense role in instilling these values in me and the College in re – enforcing the same.

A wave of feminism is occurring around the globe. Do you have any thoughts to share on the same especially in the legal field?

I feel extremely proud and happy to see many girls coming into the legal profession. There seem to be more girls than boys. Whether or not they pursue law as a career after marriage, the legal knowledge that you gain will never go waste. It is something that is useful in your day-to-day lives. The only thing is that when you are in this profession, there is nothing like a man or a woman, you are a 'professional'. As women, we are required to do multi-task and I think we have an inherent ability and are gifted to do the same. One has to balance both, work and the home-front with equal élan. At work, there is only 'work' and 'no home excuses'. There are always trying times but you have to deal with them. Those trying experiences, also make you stronger. If you love your 'work', nothing seems difficult and impossible.

Apart from academics, what are the other experiences at Law School which have contributed to your profession?

The exposure Symbiosis gives you is never limited to academics but otherwise. I used to take part in a lot of Mock United Nation debates and Moots at that point of time. I did my LLM from Cambridge. Academic success will come if you are good. Apart from the academic success, the experience of travelling, interacting with different people, taking part in competitions gives you the exposure that makes you the person that you are. The atmosphere and teacher-student relationship at Symbiosis was always friendly. As I have said, Symbiosis always encouraged students to participate in all extra-curricular activities. In a way, Symbiosis where I spent my formidable 5 years, has been instrumental in shaping my career.

ALUMNI TEACHERS

SPEAK ON COMING BACK TO SLS, PUNE

I really enjoyed being at Symbiosis as a student; coming back to Pune naturally meant coming back to Symbiosis and my alma mater. The way curriculum is taught, the library and the resources available today, have changed for the better. The cosmopolitan atmosphere is the best thing about Symbiosis Law School, Pune.

Dr. Bindu Ronald

It is been a wonderful journey with you all. I wish you good luck and pray for your bright future. Keep rocking.

Prof. Chaitra R. Beerannavar

Symbiosis for me is like the roots. No matter wherever I go, the roots will remain here and I will be attached to it.

Prof. Satiksha Singh

After Symbiosis Law School became affiliated to SIU, which is now an international acclaimed brand, I perceived it as an excellent opportunity to be a part of it as a faculty. Moreover my affection for this college runs deep as this institution has groomed me like a mother. Hence, it is my Alma Mater in letter and spirit.

-Dr. Aradhana Nair

I came back to this college because I love academics. If you are a true researcher you have to go back to your roots from where you learnt what is academics.

Prof. Jinamoni Baruah

I learnt many things in SLS, Pune in the capacity of student and now as a teacher. This institution has given me a lot in my life!

Prof. Ashish Deshpande

Symbiosis Law School as an institution has been a great place for me to grow as a person as well as an academican which started from the time I was a student over here and the journey still continues.

Prof. Smita Pandey

Right from my college days, I observed a sincere concern of Symbiosis Law School towards quality, ethics and innovation in teaching and other learning processes. All these practices attracted me to join this premier institution which has made its name in the field of legal education.

Dr. Atmaram Shelke

I came back to my family which is Symbiosis Law School; but now the designation & roles are different, so I have lots of responsibilities towards this family. Thank you so much.

Prof. Trupti Rath

There are many changes since my student days in comparison to what is at the moment. The technology employed, the teaching methods made use of, under students learning attitude has gone from strength to strength.

Dr. Yuvraj Patil

Enriching, academically challenging, invigorating, intellectually satisfying are some of the words that come to my mind when I think of my second innings at Symbiosis Law School. I sincerely thank Dr. Shashikala Gulpur for the faith, motivation and guidance that she has always provided to me.

Prof. Sujata Arya

A TRIP DOWN MEMORY LANE...

Adv. Sampath Bulusu: For me SLS is my Gurukul and my extended family. True to the motto of Symbiosis 'Vasundhaiva Kutumbakam', this Gurukul treats its students as family members from the day of joining till graduation and, thereafter.

Amruta Ruikar, Symbiosis: The memories that I have from this law school are one of the best and most cherished memories of my life. I made friends from different cities and different states in India which was one of the many benefits of studying at SLS! Symbhav is a once in a lifetime experience, being the last batch to graduate from the old campus added onto the glory. I also miss attending tests at other colleges.

Rohit Kumar, General Counsel, United Phosphorous: I describe the years in Pune as the best days of my life. We didn't have continuous lectures and thus spent most of the time either at the NCC canteen or at the college stairs. I vividly remember the Senapati Bapat Road and all those places nearby which make me nostalgic.

Anandh Venkataramani, New York Bar: I can speak for all my colleagues and friends when I say that the 'Symbi law' experience was responsible for grooming us during our most important & formative years. For lot of us, experiences and activities, both, inside and (more likely) outside the classrooms and law school, have helped to find our true calling. Or at the very least, given us the tools do so. And the bonds created during this time with peers, friends and with faculty members alike are things that'll surely stay with us for life. A toast to the best years of our lives! Cheers and best regards.

Rajesh Kuumar, Legal Associate, Sanjay Leela Bhansali Films: Symbiosis Law School has played an important role in shaping me and my career; I would say Law School has changed me. I could see a dramatic transformation in my personality after having pursued law education from Symbiosis.
